m8 J. M. BENTON.

Every child who buys ten cents worth of candy or nuts at Adams' candy store has an opportunity of getting back any sum from ten cents to a dollar.

Notice to Hunters.

Positively no shooting allowed on the Holstein ranch.

Benton's Liniment.

Which has been used in Carson for over twenty-five years, has saved many an ache and pain to those who know it. It is really intended for horses but works with the same magical effect on the human. It is a powerful remedy and for rheumatism is the king of the world. Aches knocked out in short order. No horseman should be without a bottle.

Benton's Liniment for sale at all drug stores.

For The Ladies.

KNOWS A GOOD THING.

A Californian's Opinion of Nevada Resources.

Col. Hollister, a dairyman of San Luis Obispo county, Cal., has been for some time in this section looking for an investment. He wants a ranch capable of feeding at least 500 cows and near a creamery.

In a conversation with the writer he said: "The climate of Nevada is much better adapted to dairying than California. You have much better feed here and the cool nights are a great factor. In California by the middle of Summer the feed is exhausted, the sultry nights effect the cattle and there are many drawbacks. I find in Nevada the ranches have splendid feed all Summer and then after cutting the third crop of alfalfa they turn the cattle on these fields and get a magnificent Fall pasturage. The cool nights are refreshing to the cows and they give a big milk yield. The grass up here, the dry climate and elevation, all combine to make gilt edged butter. My attention was first attracted to Nevada butter by seeing that it had taken first premium at the World's Fair. It deserved it for I never saw better butter. The splendid showing your creamery industry is making is attracting the attention of California dairymen, and the industry will grow from this on. What kind of cattle do I use? Well I have Holsteins and Short horns. I consider the Holsteins the best all round cattle. I bred Holstein bulls to Shorthorns and this makes a splendid dairy cow. They give rich milk and a well sustained yield. You people don't seem to realize the great natural advantages of your State."

ALL SORTS.

D. A. Bender, wife and daughter Elizabeth, are back from the Bay.

The adjournment of Congress makes the present hot weather endurable.

John G. Fox now has a full line of school books on sale at prices to suit the hard times.

The family of D. P. Wardell from Virginia are in this city, the guests of Mrs. Joe Josephs.

Ex-Congressman Woodburn has been engaged to assist Thomas Wren and W. D. Massey in the defense of the Carlin strikers.

A tenement house in New York was destroyed by fire yesterday. Four men were burned to death.

The Republican State ticket don't seem to arouse much enthusiasm among the faithful of Elko. It is not what they expected.—Independent.

Gov. Waite of Colorado has been arrested on the charge of opening letters addressed to Mrs. Likens, formerly matron at police headquarters.

Dispatches to the native press of China say that the Chinese have gained a succession of victories over the Japs. The reports have not been confirmed.

Two children were burned to death at Santa Monica by the upsetting of a candle in a wooden house. They were the five-year-old son of Mrs. R. R. Grimes and the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Annie Dominguez.

Mr. Paynter editor of the Enterprise paid the Appeal office a visit yesterday. Mr. Paynter says that there will be no political campaign so warm that he will not go about and get acquainted with his loathsome contemporaries.

A colored man dropped dead at a bar at Gardnerville, Nev., recently, while drinking whisky on a wager. The same day a man died near by from the effects of drinking ice water. A man who wants to grow up with the country should restrict himself to champagne.—Lundy Index.

To Turn Preacher.

Ned Foster, the proprietor of the Bella Union theater, has been fined $20 for selling liquor without a license in San Francisco. On paying the fine Ned announced that he would turn preacher.

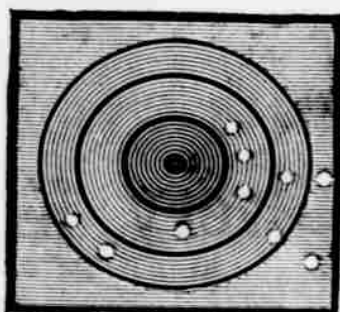

Foster used to be on the Comstock and is one of the oddest characters of the coast. Should he turn preacher it would be a paying card for the man who managed him. He has a great command of language, thinks like lightning, has queer pectulations and a fund of striking expressions which would make him the pulpit rival of Sam Jones.

The man who would hire Metropolitan Temple and pay Ned $100 a night for a weeks engagement, would pack home a barrel of money.

MORE OLD SCORES.

A Very Wild Target Made by Gen. Poujade.

When General Poujade first began his career as a military marksman he was not the crack shot he is now. In order to give the average militiaman an idea of how poorly Poujade could shoot years ago, we give a record of his awfully poor marksmanship in 1886. It is probably one of the worst scores ever made in this State. Just look at it.

4 4 4 4 3 3 3 3 2 2—32

Poujade opened the ball with four fours near the center line, then his arm seemed to have weakened and he got lower on the target and further from the bulls eye; four threes followed and then a couple of deuces the last off to the lower corner of the target. It was at 500 yards.

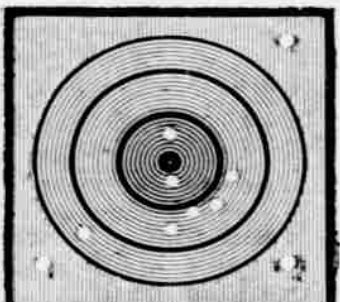

Heaven forbid that we should accuse any member of the Nevada Militia with the use of stimulants, but something must have unnerved the shooter on that memorable occasion.

The General has become a much better shot since then. Here is a 200 yard target of his off hand. The way the bullet holes huddle up around the center advertise the circumstance that there are no flies worth mentioning on it.

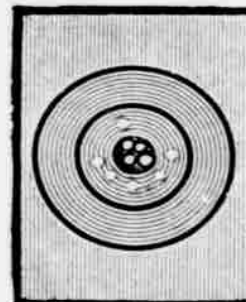

4 4 4 4 4 4 5 5 5 5—44

In the early days George Cowing, now a crack shot of the company, was occasionally a wild shooter. Here is one of his 500 yard targets shot from a rest, in 1887. History does not say the sort of a rest, but it must have been an empty gallon demijohn that rolled with the recoil. It may be considered rather a bad target for a man of Cowing's reputation.

4 2 4 2 4 2 5 5 3—35

Here is one by the same marksman, at 200 yards, after he joined the Good Templars in 1893.

4 5 4 5 4 5 4 4 5—44

This target is alright and gives the reader an idea of what Cowing is when he is at himself.

Heavy Fruit Shipments.

The Central Pacific has leased eight heavy locomotives with full crews from the Union Pacific, and it is expected it will keep them in service for three months to come because of the unprecedented crowding of freight over the Central Pacific. That freight is mostly fruit, and people who have been out on the line of the Central Pacific say that the amount of fruit being shipped east over that line is something most extraordinary. The strike crippled the early fruit trade exceedingly, but nowadays it is being made up, and the wonder of those who watch the endless procession of fruit trains is where there can people enough be found to absorb all that fruit.

During his speech before the Republican State Convention at Reno Hon. H. F. Bartine said that "not a hair on the top of his head was owned or controlled by any railroad company." A wag who was present, says he looked at the top of the gentleman's head through an opera glass and could not see even fuzz there.—Ex.

THIRD DAY IN CAMP.

The Sun Comes out in Great Force.

Yesterday was the hottest day the boys in camp have experienced.

The threatened thunder storm did not come off and the day broke clear and hot. Thunder storms are playing all about the horizon but they all seem to avoid Carson.

Col. Lord ordered an extra salute in hopes that the artillery would bring rain as it did after the battle of Waterloo. Over $75 worth of powder was burned but no rain.

The heat was sweltering all day and so hot in the pavilion that the meat got an extra fry on it after it reached the table.

The soldiers all speak highly of their rations which have been first class, Friday a chicken dinner will be served.

At night there are wild scenes along the tented streets and it is hard to sleep. The hilarity is noisy but good humored and nothing more serious than a little fun has cropped out.

Yesterday Billy Pratt organized a bogus Court Martial and charged J. D. Cammeron with flirting with a Carson girl when he should be tending to picket duty. He was condemned to three hours with a ball and chain and had to serve his sentence clearing up the litter of the Camp, and stood the chaffing of his comrades with a soldiers fortitude.

BLANK CARTRIDGES.

The "kid" who wrote the article criticising Adjutant Haas and his mount, was the same one who made such a holy show of himself as an aid in the 4th of July procession. He has not only shown himself to be an amateur horseman, but an amateur reporter. "Kid" fits too well to be called a nom de plume.

Frank Kilday has to wear an asbestos hat.

The boys find that the artesian well South of the grounds furnishes excellent drinking water.

Lieutenant Saxton drilled the artillery yesterday.

It was Kersey who sent the water-melons.

Parson Davis sent a box of peaches to Co. F. He is not up for office, but always preached that it was better to give than receive.

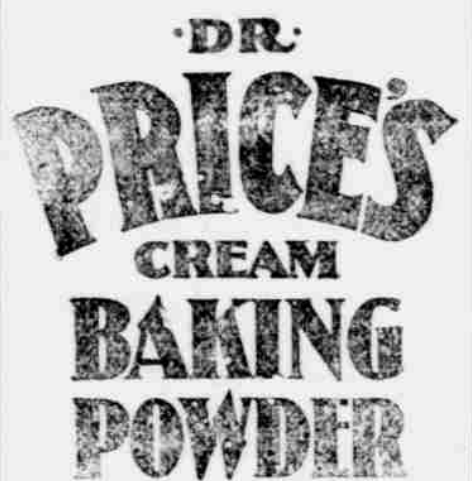

Serious Mistake of a Father.

San Antonio, Texas, August 30,—Last night Dr. Anderson O'Mally, a young New York physician, shot his three-year-old son accidentally and then killed him to put him out of pain. His wife and himself have been very nervous about burglars and have been keeping awake several nights. They heard the door in the child's room creak. The father went in with a cocked pistol. He saw no one. He poked his little nephew and his own son with the pistol to cause them to turn over, the pistol went off shooting the child in the side and the father then put his pistol to its head and killed it to relieve it of its misery as he said he knew the wound was fatal. He is now under arrest and is almost insane.

After Stewart.

Charles Glasscock, of Washington, has sued his wife for divorce and named Senator Stewart as a co-respondent. The Senator says it is a blackmail scheme and that he has had detectives working up evidence and watching Glasscock for months. The case is exciting great interest in Washington.
